November 24, 2009 Karen Gulley, Ginny Littleton, Marilyn Murray, Cindy Walton Presidents-of-the-Month “Paraments” & Holiday Party

Our “Holiday Party” will include a presentation by Cindy Walton of her paraments* she has made for the Sun-bury United Methodist Church. Also, holiday food and drinks will be provided by the rest of the group. We hope you can come and enjoy being fed with food, drink and inspiration.

*In case you might be wondering - paraments are the vestments or hangings for the altar, pulpit, and lectern in a church!

Tip of the Day: Corralling Your Fusibles

If you have a large assortment of fusible — use mailing tubes in various sizes to keep them organized and easily accessible. Adding a label on the top of each tube allows you to find the correct fusible quickly; standing the tubes up in a cardboard box or plastic tub keeps everything neat and orderly.

Quilter's Green Tips

Recommended by Lisa Smith:

More Ways to Store Fusibles

Another way to store fusible or stabilizers - and a "green" tip too is to use empty cardboard paper towel or (since it's the holidays) wrapping paper rolls. Just roll your fusible or stabilizer around the outside of the cardboard and secure with a pin or rubber band or even tie a scrap of fabric around it to hold it in place (another use for scraps or selvages.) If you have printed instructions, roll them tightly and slip them inside the tube. You can write the name of the fusible on the upper edge of the tube so you can keep them all organized and easy to find again. Store them like the mailing tubes - standing up in a box or tub!
