2010 Service Project ConKerr Pillowcases A Success!

Many thanks to all the members who made pillowcases for the ConKerr pillowcase service project. We took 59 pillowcases to Susan Hart's Sew-n-Save shop for distribution to young cancer patients. I've enclosed a photo of the pillowcases stacked up to show you how cheerful they all are. One member found a darling print that must have been from the same fabric line as the bright pink polka dots. Someone else made 2 pillowcases with rick-rack trim. We had a couple of cozy flannel pillowcases. We had some with funky critters and sweet butterflies. All of them are terrific! I'm sure they'll bring cheer to the patients who receive them.

Christmas Time in Charles Dickens' England

The poulterers' shops were still half open, and the fruiterers' were radiant in their glory. There were great, round, pot-bellied baskets of chestnuts, shaped like the waistcoats of jolly old gentlemen, lolling at the doors, and tumbling out into the street in their apoplectic opulence. There were ruddy, brown-faced, broad-girthed Spanish Onions, shining in the fatness of their growth like Spanish Friars, and winking from their shelves in wanton slyness at the girls as they went by, and glanced demurely at the hung-up mistletoe. There were pears and apples, clustered high in blooming pyramids; there were bunches of grapes, made, in the shopkeepers' benevolence to dangle from conspicuous hooks, that people's mouths might water gratis as they passed; there were piles of filberts, mossy and brown, recalling, in their fragrance, ancient walks among the woods, and pleasant shufflings ankle deep through withered leaves; there were Norfolk Biffins, squab and swarthy, setting off the yellow of the oranges and lemons, and, in the great compactness of their juicy persons, urgently entreating and beseeching to be carried home in paper bags and eaten after dinner. ~ A Christmas Carol, probably the most popular piece of fiction that Dickens ever wrote, was published in 1843.

The following Committees have been committed by members: Workshop and Charm Square. Most Greeter Positions have been filled.

The Guild needs your help. It takes a Village or a Guild to continue our visions through the next year. Without your support we will need to adjust our meetings/plans for 2011. Board Members will be available to answer your questions regarding open positions/committees at the November meeting and will have signup sheets.
