Louise Maloy & Rose Wetherill, Presidents-of-the-Month Sewing Surplus Sale

Come to the Sale and find just the item you've been looking for! Or, if you are going to have a table at the meeting — bring your surplus sewing supplies and make someone else happy! For those selling — please arrive early and have your table set up with your clearly marked items by 6:45 pm. We will then have our business meeting and show 'n tell prior to the sale. Please—no sales before the meeting! The sale will finish up around 8:45 pm so we will have time to pack things up and tidy up the room in order to be out by 9:00 pm.

Tell your friends to come along too if they're looking for some sewing items or if they just want to see what treasures they might find!

Service Project Sew-In

Our next sew-in at My Very Own Blanket is this Sunday, May 23, 1:00pm-5:00pm, at 260 East Broadway, Westerville. (Just 1/2 block off Otterbein Ave. on the north side of the street - a gray building with red trim.)

We'll be making string blocks again and learning to set them on point. You can also just make simple string block quilts like the last time, if you'd prefer. You'll get a pattern for setting on point. You can make string blocks using fabric that Jessica will provide that would be for My Very Own Blanket, or you can bring your own scrappy strips and make a quilt for any charitable group you wish. Jessica has sewing machines at her site, or you can bring your own. If you want to help but don't want to sew, you can still join us. We need folks to rotary cut strips and trim up blocks and others to do ironing.

I hope you'll have time to join us and have a fun day stringing away!

Web site news—

We have had at a lot of people contacting our "info@" email address requesting information on attending our guild meetings. In fact, I heard from one happy quilter that emailed and then attended the April meeting — she won a door prize! The web site is really doing what it is supposed to be doing — providing a way for those quilters that are new to the area to find a guild to join or visit. And that makes me very happy!
